ARMAND-FRAPPIER BOULEVARD

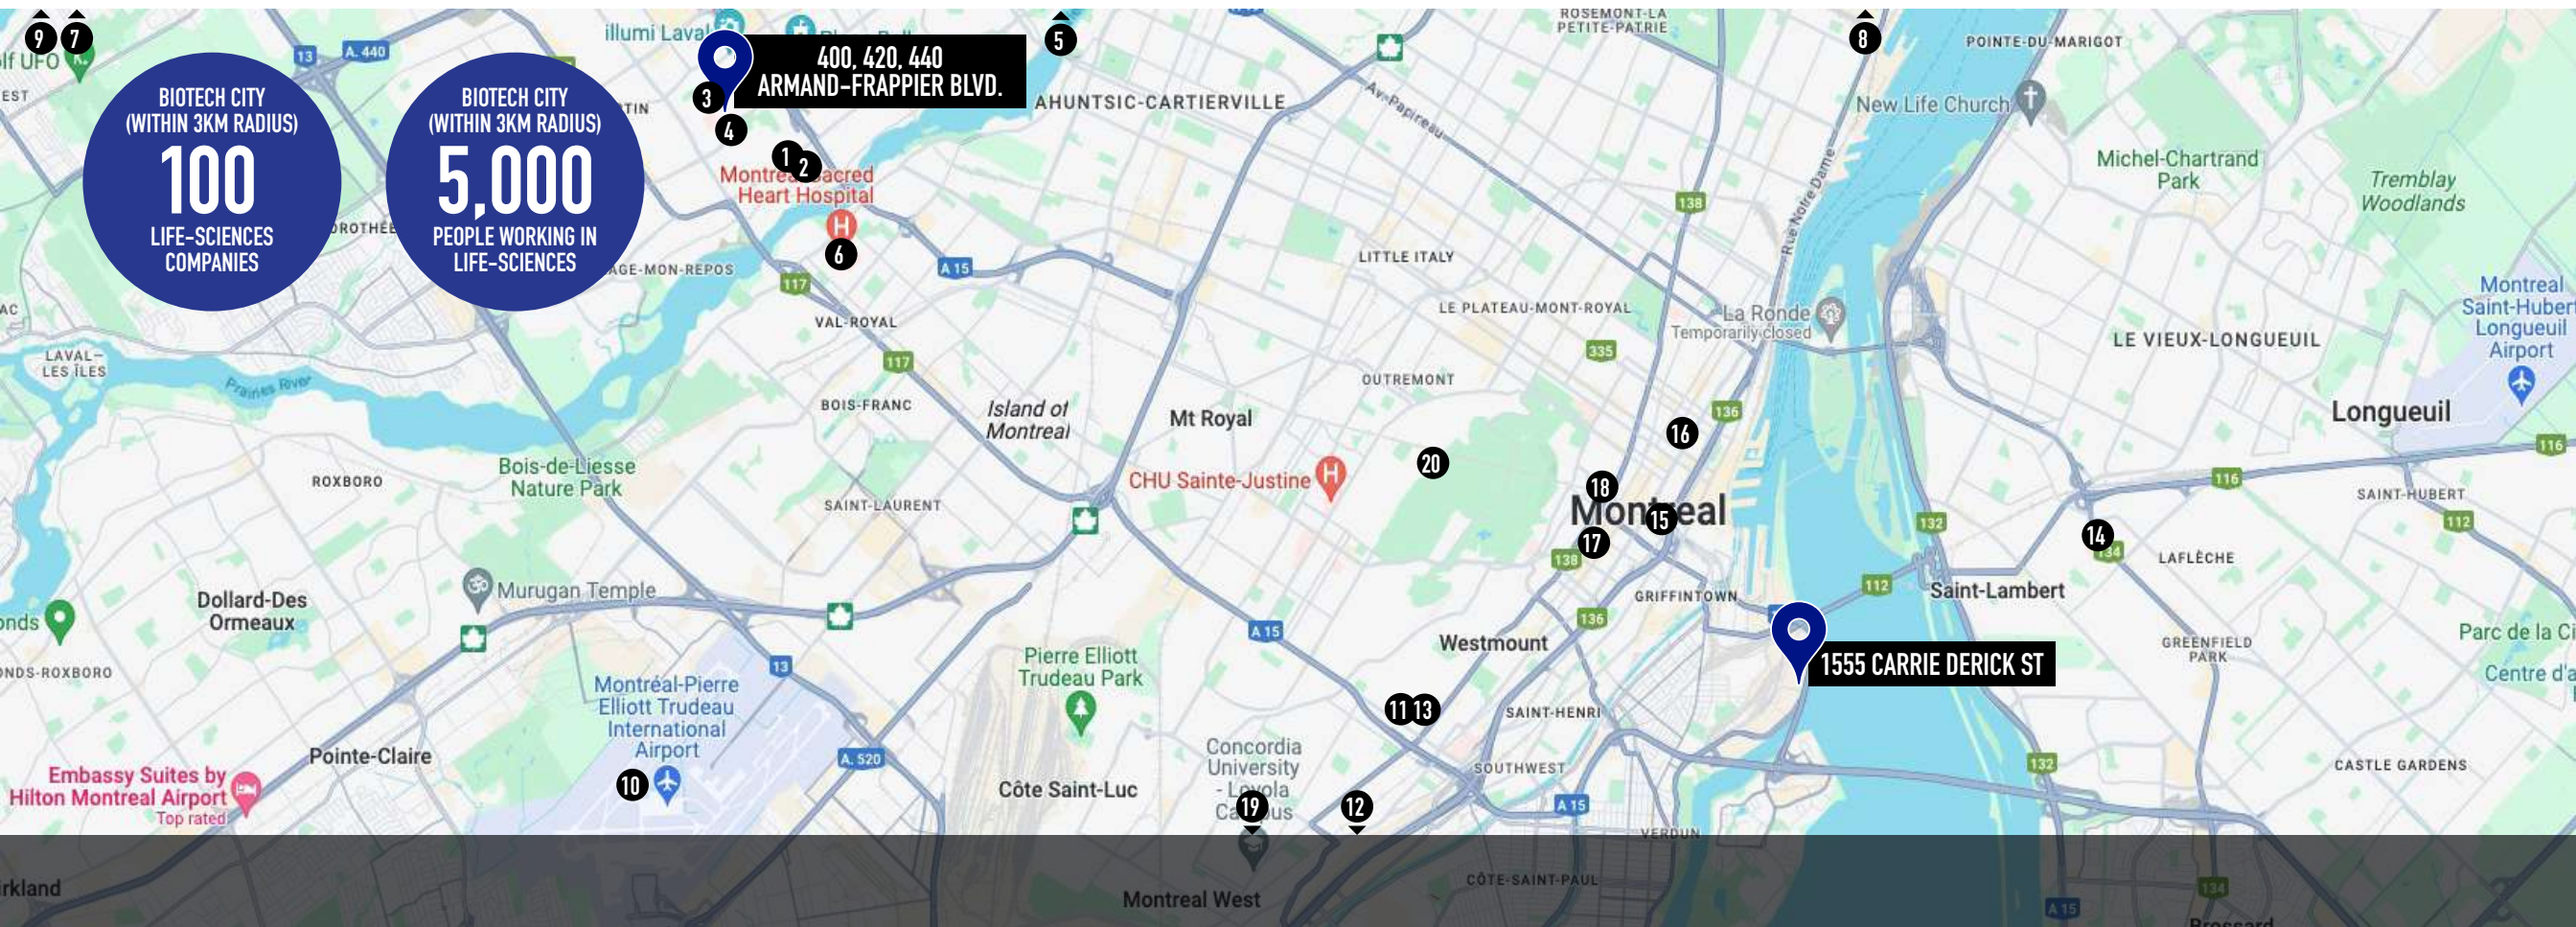

IN THE CORE BIOTECH NETWORK

HarveyCorp's Armand-Frappier site is located within the Biotech City. The biotech city of Laval is Montréal's biotechnology and life sciences hub that's home to world renowned biopharmaceutical firms and research institutes. The Biotech City's mission is to ensure the attraction, development and growth of corporations born out of health science research and to provide them an environment conducive to success.

The Carrie Derick site is just outside of downtown Montréal and in close proximity to various universities and hospitals, including the Jewish Rehabilitation Hospital of Montréal. Both sites are also located right along the A-15 Highway, providing access directly through the city, and onto the island.
