Area Overview

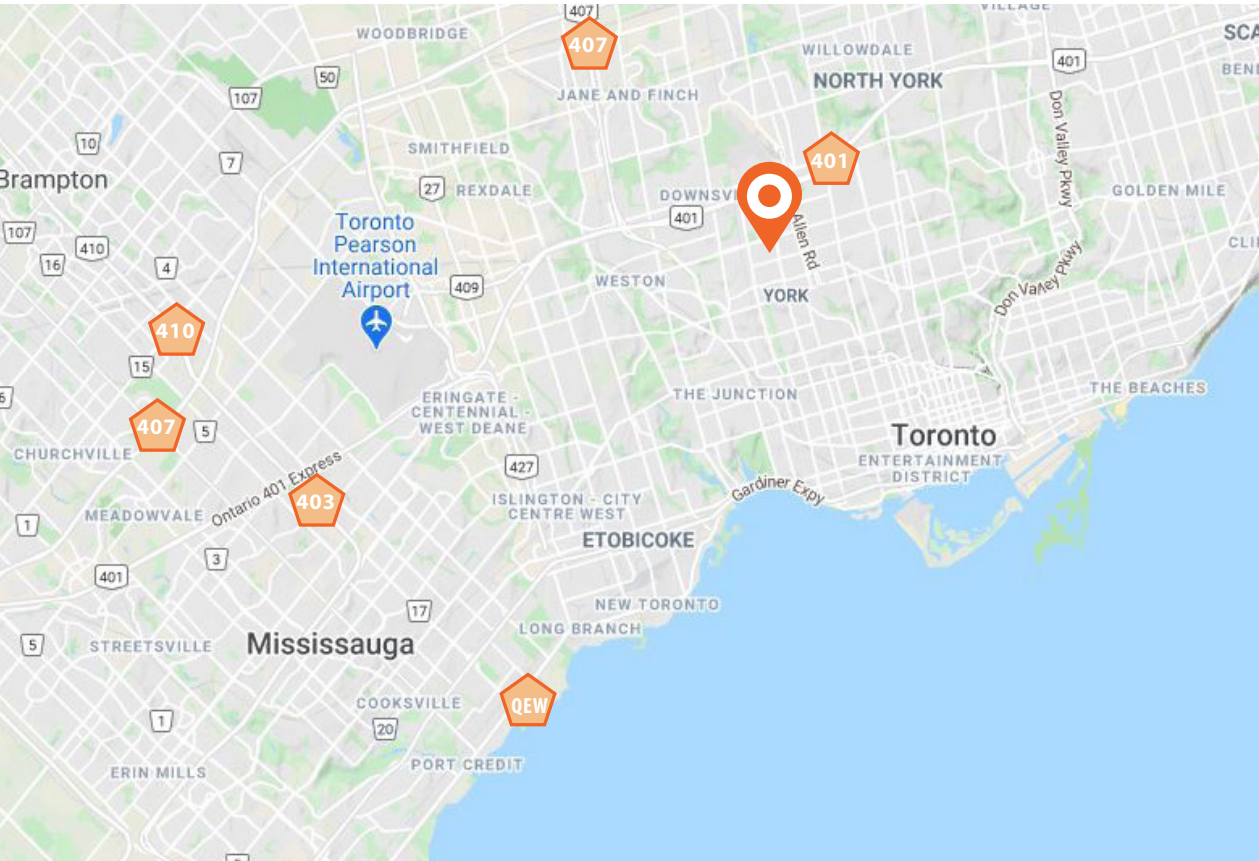

Toronto's Design District is home to a mix of furniture showrooms, home and fashion designers and more. It is favourably located just north of Eglinton Avenue and just south of the 401. The area is home to industrial buildings that have been converted for retail and office use. It offers large, flexible and relatively affordable storefronts with abundant parking compared to inventory closer to the core. 1020 Lawrence Avenue W is an extension of the community. Striving to build upon what already exists in the design district and adding more top-of-the-line retailers and designers, mixed with a lifestyle and food users.
